

Arturo Elizondo

Arturo is the Co-founder & CEO of EVERY Company, a leading molecular food company based in Silicon Valley making real animal protein without the use of a single animal protein—starting with the world’s first animal-free egg white. EVERY leverages synthetic biology and advanced fermentation to brew proteins that have the taste and nutrition of animal proteins but with a smaller footprint on our planet.

Arturo has been named as the National Hispanic Institute’s Person of the Year, Forbes 30 Under 30, and GreenBiz 30 Under 30 sustainability leaders, and one of 10 Latinos who inspire the United States by BBC World News, He holds a degree in Government from Harvard University.